

Mark Calleja

Mark Calleja is a business leader in the ICT industry with extensive experience in both the commercial, education, research, and public sectors. He is a strategic thinker, who brings many years experience involvement with boards. Prior to Synchronised swimming, Mark's children were competitive swimmers and involved in diving with about 14 years involvement with various swimming clubs. Mark only has a couple of years involvement of Synchro, however as his son Ethan recently migrated away from swimming to be part of Australia's first mixed duet (who were finalists at 2019 FINA World Championships), Mark has had an intensive introduction to the sport. Being the father of a male swimmer, Mark is keen to see the sport actively expand and involve to all West Australians in the great sport of Synchronised Swimming.
